

Lenin Studies the Allies.
A Supreme Court Gift.
One Wasted Life.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1920.)

Russia under Lenin seems to have studied the Allies' methods under Lloyd George, Clemenceau and Woodrow Wilson.

The Allies said to Germany, "You must disarm, that we may have you at our mercy." The Russians now say the same to Poland. The Allies took coal and iron mines from Germany. The Russians propose to take coal and salt mines from Poland. The Allies told Germany she must not have fortifications on her frontier. Lenin says the same to Poland, and so it goes. One item in Lenin's demands, however, was missing in the Allies' treatment of Germany. Lenin tells Poland she must give land sufficient for their support to Polish soldiers wounded in the war and to families of Polish soldiers killed in the war. Russia is helping the dead and wounded among her enemies. Is something new in warfare? The ingenious will say it proves that Russia possesses idealism. The cynical will say that Russia's interest is Bolshevik propaganda. Conspicuous in the wars of civilized nations is neglect of the fighting is over. We had a sample of that in the United States when the bonus for soldiers was in question. For Russia not only to look after her own men as she does, giving extra supplies of food and money to families of Russian soldiers and also to demand just treatment for the Polish soldiers, will surely help to spread Lenin's ideas in Poland.

Lenin is alleged to have said, "I financed the Russian revolution with German gold. I shall finance the German revolution with Russian gold." If he can finance the Bolshevik revolution in Poland by giving Polish land to wounded Polish soldiers killed to families of Polish soldiers killed, he will show intelligent economics.

Privately owned express companies are again allowed to increase their charges twelve and a half per cent. This may or may not be a reasonable increase. You observe, however, that Government-owned parcels post and letter post do not increase their charges, yet they pay expenses and show profit. That is the difference between private ownership and Government ownership under proper management.

Unfortunately for the people they were deceived as regards public ownership. They were taken over in war. They were left in charge of their original managers. And these, naturally took care to make Government management as costly and bad as possible. You can imagine what would have happened to the parcels post if managers of express companies had been allowed to take charge, obeying the instructions of their stockholders to make Government management a failure.

Preparing foolishness and failure of their sons is the occupation of successful money makers. They know it, but that does not stop them.

The other day in England died Walter Winans, leaving behind him some of the millions that his father left to him. He was an American, but he never saw America until he was past fifty. He was an intelligent man, but did nothing worth while with his intelligence. He was a good shot, one of the best in the world; that was one waste of time.

He was one of the best known exhibitors of show horses in England, another waste of time. He was a tenth rate painter and sculptor; it wasn't necessary for him to be any better. He didn't need the money. That was more waste of time.

The other day Mr. Winans dropped dead, at the bottom of his racing wagon, while driving in a trotting race, the final waste of time.

The man had ability. Had he started life with the useful lash of necessity behind him, he would have been heard of as one of the country's successful men. But he lived surrounded by sycophants that praised him when he didn't deserve it and bolstered by a check book that supplied him with money he never earned.

Every hard worker in the United States knows how utterly worthless life is when a man only spends and never creates, yet the able men of the United States are working, struggling, accumulating, that they may be able to do for their children what the father of Winans did for his son, leaving him to waste time, waste life, waste opportunity and waste money.

OLYMPIC SOUVENIRS
COST THEM $100 EACH

Trans-Atlantic Vandals Will Be Made to Feel Hand of Law, Say Ship Officials.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The trans-Atlantic tourists who feel that their journeys are not complete unless they lug off a piece of the liner as a souvenir are going to find that souvenirs come high.

Appalled by the value of the stuff carried away on each trip, the steamship companies are going to fight the practice.

The first skirmish was successful. Eli and Herbert Ambler, of Los Angeles, were each fined $100 at Southampton for pocketing. It is alleged, silver-plated ash trays from the Olympic.

They said they were merely seeking mementoes.

NUMBER 11,622

Published every evening (including Sunday)
Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON, SUNDAY EVENING, AUGUST 15, 1920.

TRUCE PARLEYS BEGIN; FIGHTING CONTINUES

Dublin Rioters Mob Street Cars to Attack British Soldiers

IRISH STORM
CASTLE GATES

Mob Pursues Troops Thought to Have Slain Boy During Rioting.

MAYOR ON HUNGER STRIKE

England Ready to Open Way for Dominion Rule in Erin.

WEARING O' THE GREEN
SUNG TO KING GEORGE

LONDON, Aug. 15.—King George and Queen Mary attended an entertainment Friday night given by the servants of Buckingham Palace. An Irish maid-servant sang "The Wearing of the Green," rendering the first verse as follows:

"Oh, Paddy, dear, did you hear the news that's going around?
"The Bishop is forbid by law to tread his mother's native ground."
The house steward, in charge of the entertainment, attempted to prevent the maid from singing, but the King indicated he wished her to proceed, and the conclusion of the song the King remarked:

"It is a sad song, and I regret it is so applicable to the present situation in Ireland."

DUBLIN, Aug. 15.—Police reserves were on duty in the streets here today maintaining order, following rioting in which rifles and revolvers were fired when a crowd of armed men boarded street cars in search of soldiers. There were many hand-to-hand struggles.

Armored cars appeared and shots were fired over the heads of the rioters. The crowd dispersed. It reassembled later but there was no further trouble.

MOB STORMS DUBLIN CASTLE.
A mob last night attempted to rush the gates of Dublin Castle. The crowd caught sight of a number of Lancashire Fusiliers whom they believed were responsible for the death in the recent rioting of a boy named Farrell.

Shots were fired over the heads of the crowd, and the firing continued for about ten minutes.

CORK, Aug. 15.—The Lord Mayor of Cork and ten men arrested with him in connection with charges of being implicated in Sinn Fein activities began a hunger strike today.

OPEN WAY FOR IRELAND
TO GET DOMINION RULE

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The British government is ready to consider an amendment to the Irish home rule bill which will open the way for dominion rule in Ireland.

A Bonar Law is expected to make announcement this effect in the House of Commons tomorrow. The cabinet is said to have reached its final decision on dominion home rule at its session Friday.

U. S. MYSTERY WARSHIP
JUMPS OBSTRUCTIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A "boom-climbing" torpedo boat, America's latest mystery warship, has just been completed and will be tried out next month. It was learned here last night.

This new type of sea-fighting craft is capable of leaping, at full speed, across masses of logs lashed together and crossing mine fields and entering harbors without detection. It is asserted.

The vessel is called "Shearer" torpedo motor boat, after its designer, W. B. Shearer.

It is fifty-eight feet long, with a beam of nine and a half feet. It can make thirty miles an hour and twenty miles an hour when submerged for firing.

Jane Dowie Seeks To Cast Out Voliva and
Be "Mother of Zion"

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Aug. 15.—Zion City, Ill., the religious colony founded on Lake Michigan's north shore by John Alexander Dowie, "prophet" and self-styled "Elijah," is due to have another "overseer" if the ambition of Mrs. Jane Dowie may be taken as a criterion.

Mrs. Dowie, who styles herself "Mother of Zion," is in Zion City from Los Angeles to wrest control of the city where none may smoke, chew or stay out of doors after 9 o'clock in the evening, from Wilbur Glenn Voliva. When Dowie died, Voliva became "overseer" of Zionites by the terms of the will left by the "Prophet."

Mrs. Dowie asserted today that this will was made while her husband was "mentally incompetent," and that she has since discovered a new will. While she refused to disclose the terms of the new will, Mrs. Dowie declared that "Dowie was the father of Zion" and that she proposed to be the "mother of Zion."

Zion City, widely known for the severity with which its anti-smoke and anti-immodesty-indecent rules are enforced, is awaiting the outcome of the new phase of its heretofore placid existence.

TURK REBEL AGAIN
ESCAPES BRITISH

ENVER PASHA LEADS KEENEST
SECRET SERVICE AGENTS MERRY
CHASE THROUGH EUROPE.

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.
BERLIN, Aug. 15.—Sought from Berlin to the borders of India by Great Britain's keenest secret service men, as perhaps the most dangerous enemy of the safety of the British Empire in Asia, Enver Pasha, commander in chief of the Turkish National rebellion, who, with associates, is endeavoring to stir up the Moslem world to a holy war against British rule, returned to Germany and departed again before the British became aware that he had eluded them.

Enver left for the Orient again, this time to take command of the Turkish Nationalist army. He was seen by British military forces.

While the agents of Great Britain were seeking him, Enver, for more than two months, was in prison in an internment camp at Rigda, for a time was examined daily by British, British and American officials, who never for a moment suspected the identity of the dark little man with the scowling, bearded and soft voice.

MEETS VON WIEGAND.
Enver arrived at Kiel on a ship as an exchanged prisoner.

After a few days' reunion with his wife and two children, who escaped from Constantinople with the aid of a German spy, Enver was again in hiding.

While waiting for his princess wife, who was in a nearby beauty parlor, Enver and I had tea together in one of the leading hotels. He looked none the worse for his rough experience.

After five previous failures to reach Moscow, Enver started early in April on his sixth attempt. This time he went by airplane. The gasoline supply gave out and he made a forced landing at Danzig. He next landed at Konigsberg, where several days were spent in making repairs.

Leaving Konigsberg for the Russian aviation field at Vitvok, Enver's pilot figured that a four-hour gasoline supply would be adequate. However, it was not by fifteen minutes and a forced landing was made near Bunaberg, less than twenty miles from the Russian border. The party was arrested by Lettish, who suspected them of being Bolshevik emissaries instead of German merchants, as they pretended.

ENGLISHMAN SAVED HIM.
An examination revealed that the Russian who was accompanying Enver as an interpreter was carrying cipher dispatches and all were thrown into jail. The pilot, Enver declared, was beaten over the head until the blood flowed to make him reveal the identity of the Lettish. Enver said: "The Englishman, not knowing how I was served me possibly from being killed."

Enver, his companion and the pilot were taken to Riga. The examining board there consisted of Lettish, British and one American. Enver said: "The American was in the uniform of an officer of the American Red Cross. He had a large number of books and pamphlets on Bolshevikism before him and kept asking me day after day what I knew about the doctrine they expounded."

LIGHTNING KILLS VETERAN.
PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 15.—Richard J. Foran, who survived the World War, with 22 wounds, while a member of the Three Hundred and Ninth Machine Gun Battalion, was killed by lightning early today while seeking shelter beneath a tree during a severe thunderstorm.

Two companions had left Foran a moment before he was killed.

WOMEN WORK
LIKE BEAVERS

Suffrage Leaders Strive to Put Ballot Across Tomorrow.

NORTH CAROLINA IN DOUBT

Tennessee Believed Most Likely Candidate for "Perfect 36" Honors.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 15.—Suffrage leaders here are working like beavers to make Tennessee the "perfect thirty-six" in the list of suffrage States.

The Senate Friday, by a vote of 25 to 4, ratified the Nineteenth Amendment. It is now up to the House of Representatives to make final decision as to whether or not women shall vote in all the States in the November election.

MAY FAIL AT RALEIGH.
There are ninety-nine members of the House, twenty-eight Republicans, the remainder Democrats. These men have in their hands the immediate fate of suffrage, as indications from Raleigh, where the North Carolina Legislature is also considering ratification, are that equal votes will not pass the North Carolina Legislature.

The confidence of suffrage leaders of the other members of the lower house of information tonight. The journey of the house from Friday until tomorrow. This is looked on as merely a sign of Speaker Walker's personal attitude against suffrage, and not an index of house sentiment. They point to the test vote Wednesday, when an anti-suffrage resolution was tabled by a vote of 50 to 37.

Speaker Walker has received an appeal from President Wilson asking that the house concur with the senate in voting for the Nineteenth Amendment. He replied, refusing to "surrender honest convictions for political expediency or harmony."

His answer follows:

"I have the profound honor to acknowledge your wire of August 13. I do not attempt to express the views of the members of the Tennessee house of Tennessee, but I speak for myself. My views on the Anthony amendment are contrary to yours. You were too great to ask it, and I do not believe that women of Tennessee will surrender honest convictions for political expediency or harmony."

LOWER CALIFORNIA TO END ELECTION DISPUTES

MEXICALI, Aug. 15.—Negotiations on disputed points are in progress here between Col. Esteban Cantu, insurgent governor of Lower California, and the provisional government of Mexico, represented by special envoys.

"Strong hopes are entertained that a settlement of all controverted points will be reached within a day or two," according to the Cantu bureau of information tonight.

The questions under discussion are the points of the postponement of the elections, and the imposition by the central government of governors upon the various states. It was stated.

STATE DEPT. STUDIES
MEXICO REVOLUTIONS

State Department officials now are studying reports of new revolutionary uprisings in Mexico against the provisional government headed by De la Huerta.

Enemies of Huerta charge he instigated the uprisings to give him an excuse to set aside the elections scheduled for September and remain in office. This charge has been denied by the Mexican embassy here at the direction of Huerta, who authorities stated that he had no plans to remain in office longer than December, when the duly elected President should be inaugurated.

Revolutionary rumblings are being heard in Vera Cruz, Jalisco, and Nuevo Leon. The state of Lower California is in open revolt under Governor Cantu. To add to the confusion, a hitch occurred yesterday in the plans for surrender of the bandit leader, Villa.

Officials here were much amused at the hitch in the Villa surrender proceedings which came about when the De la Huerta representative protested at a demand of the bandit leader for retention of 200 instead of fifty of his soldiers as ranch hands. This would give Villa a standing army all his own, the Huerta official pointed out, and would enable him to take the field in a new revolution at any time.

The most severe cases of stomach trouble, gas, bloating, etc., yield to MAYER'S WONDERFUL REMEDY. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists—Adv.

Split Over Wrangel
Will Wreck League
Ideal, Says Writer

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI, Universal Service.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—"The recognition of General Wrangel by the French government as the destructive wedge against the Bolsheviks is only a side issue in the tragic poker game of world politics which inevitably will tend toward the breaking of the allied war alliances, the demolition of the League of Nations ideal, and the building up of a new balance of political influence which will bind America to Europe with unbreakable fetters."

The present complex international situation growing out of the Polish-Russian war, the recognition of General Wrangel and the Russian-Polish note from the American State Department was thus summed up for me by a personage in the highest of neutral quarters, who is in a position to know what is really going on behind the scenes.

France, it is asserted, took her dramatic step following advice from J. J. Jusserand, ambassador to the United States, who assured his government of the full backing of its armed policy against Moscow by all the American big interests, as well as by President Wilson.

WOULD RUIN PRESTIGE.
An agreement with England on a watchful pacifist policy toward Russia, M. Jusserand is alleged to have informed his government, would ruin the prestige of France with America, because American business men had been clamoring for an attitude of hostility toward soviet Russia.

Therefore, by taking the lead in measures against Moscow by making proteges of General Wrangel, General Pilsudski, the militant Polish leader, and others, France would immediately acquire the support of the United States, not only in this matter, but also against Germany. Great Britain or any other power whose interests conflicted with hers.

A tremendous wave of friendship, extolling the need for a close friendship with America is sweeping France today under the skilled direction of Marcel Knecht, former chief of the French propaganda mission to the United States. Since his arrival here last May, he has been employed in a high salaried post by the French government to plan a campaign to swing French public opinion from Great Britain to America.

The note of the American State Department is construed by the entire press to signify that France's policy toward Russia is backed without qualification by America.

TWO POWERS SPLIT.
With Great Britain advising Poland to accept the Russian peace terms which Premier Lloyd George believes fair, and with France advising Poland to refuse them and fight the Red army to the limit and offering the services of General Weygand,

DANIELS DIRECTS FIGHT
FOR VOTE IN N. CAROLINA

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 15.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels is directing plans here today for the fight to be given tomorrow to make North Carolina the thirty-sixth State to ratify the Federal suffrage amendment. Mrs. Daniels is helping the Secretary.

Police today showed little advantage for either suffragists or anti-suffragists. It is conceded, will ratify. (Continued on Page 2, Column 7.)

MAN AND WIFE FOUND IN WRECKED POSTOFFICE

RAYNHAM, Mass., Aug. 15.—Nelson Rivet Company's plant was destroyed by fire, the new Raynham postoffice was damaged, two men were badly burned by the explosion of a gasoline tank and the postmaster and his wife were carried unconscious from their rooms over the postoffice today.

LIVING COST TOO HIGH,
OFFER BABY FOR SALE

OAK PARK, Ill., Aug. 15.—An advertisement offering to sell a baby girl because of the high cost of living appeared here today in a local weekly paper. It aroused much indignation.

"Child for sale," said the "ad." "Beautiful girl, four years of age; blue eyes, auburn hair, excellent health, and charming disposition. Legitimate parentage. High cost of living makes sale necessary. Communications should be addressed R-30."

The Oak Park police station received more than a score of complaints about it.

REDS ENCIRCLE
WARSAW FORTS

Only Miracle Can Prevent Debacle in Beleaguered City, Say Experts.

POSEN REVOLT REPORTED

Rank and File of Defenders Look to Wizardry of Gen. Weygand.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—Armistice negotiations between Russian Soviet and Polish delegates were begun at Minsk early today, it was officially announced at the French foreign office.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Berlin dispatches received here today quoted Bolshevik sources as stating that Warsaw had been completely surrounded by Red troops.

Newspaper messages from Posen said to be led by the National Polish government. This movement was said to be led by the anti-national Democrat Duowski.

BRIDGEHEADS LAST HOPE.
On the face of all of today's news including the official communication it was declared that only one thing could save the Polish capital, a miracle effort by the Poles along the Vistula river, whose bridgeheads were the last hope, and military experts in Warsaw and Paris, bent upon revivifying the spirit of Poland's people and army, are drawing optimistic word pictures of a "second battle of the Marne," the Vistula is indeed the "River of Fate" in the gigantic battle now raging.

REDS PRESS FORWARD.
But, meanwhile, the Soviet war machine is pressing forward with mathematical precision on all sides. It saw the situation has turned from bad to worse for the Poles. While the Bolshevik right wing is launching massed attacks against Ploesti and Nisnevici, two vital keys which must be taken before the final onslaught on the Vistula line can be launched, their center and left have been smashing ahead steadily so that the left now rests upon the rail city of Lukov, fifty miles to the southeast of Warsaw.

The heroism of the Poles, flinging themselves against the overwhelmingly superior Russian forces, was emphasized in the despatches from the front, but even their most ardent well-wishers were forced to concede that only a miracle can avert a debacle.

AMERICAN WITH POLE
ARMY SLAIN BY SPY

Confirmation of Death of Captain Uziwek Brought Back Home By Companion.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Death of Captain Uziwek of Chicago, at the hands of a bolshevik spy while serving the Polish armies as a Y. M. C. A. secretary, was confirmed here by international headquarters of the Y. M. C. A.

Captain Bernard B. Koss, Stevens Point, Wis., friend of Uziwek, who arrived Thursday from Poland, brought confirmation. Uziwek was shot while asleep. The spy had joined him and two Polish privates who were moving supplies from Minsk by motor truck.

After killing Uziwek the spy shot one of the privates and attempted to shoot the other, but the cartridge missed fire. He then committed suicide.

YANK ACE NEAR DEATH
WHEN GAS IS EXHAUSTED

Rickenbacker and Four Others in Metal Aero Glide to Safety At Tucson.

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 15.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, and four others, in the all-metal plane which recently completed the New York-to-San Francisco flight, had a narrow escape when the airplane exhausted its supply of gasoline while soaring over Tucson.

The motor suddenly stopped, but as Captain Rickenbacker described it: "Fate being kind, we were in sight of an exceptionally good landing field and we alighted safely."

The return flight to New York is to be resumed today.

(Continued on Page 2, Column 4.)